

Café de Paris

The Café De Paris, in London's Piccadilly is one of the most famous and endearing venues in the world. With a glittering history, spanning nine decades, the Café has consistently played host to a wide variety of powerful and absorbing performers and guests—members of the aristocracy, eminent political figures, dazzling pop stars, captains of industry, superstars from the silver screen...even royalty

Café De Paris is all about dazzling glamour and opulence. Holding 715 people, the venue contains three separate bars in addition to the mezzanine and main dance floor—the Red Bar, the Blue Bar and the Fantasy Rooms (VIP area).

The Red Bar

The lavish Red Bar is situated on the upper level of the club, just below the main entrance. The décor, featuring a majestic gold-rimmed mirror, a gold leaf central pillar and luxurious red sofas and banquettes. This bar is perfect for smaller parties, equipped with its own full bar and holding up to 35 people. The Red Bar can be closed during a private party for extra privacy.

The Blue Bar

Alongside the main dance floor, the Blue Bar is on the lower level of the club and is a very popular bar for early evening champagne-and-canapé parties. The steely blue interior, with its rich carpet and electric blue bar, holds up to 80 people. The bar can be totally shielded from the public, via a heavy gold and blue curtain. Alternatively, it can simply be roped off, allowing Blue Bar guests to enjoy the atmosphere of the main club from a VIP viewpoint.

The VIP Rooms

The VIP rooms are the biggest of all the private chambers. Also known as the Fantasy Rooms, they consist of three individual areas, interconnected by a luxurious bar. The VIP rooms are situated behind discreet doorway away from the main club restaurant. The VIP rooms hold up to 100 people although separate chambers can be reserved for smaller groups.

The Main Room

The main room of the Café comprises the largest bar in the venue, the stage, the DJ booth, two podiums, the VIP banquette seating area, a state of the art sound and lighting system and the dance floor. It is overlooked by the mezzanine and provides access to the Blue Bar and VIP Rooms. The dance floor is also where the restaurant tables are laid out making it the perfect area of the club for private dinner parties. The Dance floor comfortably seats 120 people.

The Mezzanine

The Mezzanine area overlooking the dance floor has lounge style sofas with under lit glass tables all around and holds 160 (seated). Coming with full waitress service, the Mezzanine is the perfect place to hire for an early evening cocktail party or to place important guests.
