

Elysium

GENERAL INFORMATION

Situated in the very heart of Piccadilly, Elysium opened its doors on Wednesday 10th April 2002. Designed by the renowned Tony Carty, the interior of Elysium has a contemporary yet classical feel and is armed with the versatility to indulge any group of people. On the ground level lies Ku De Ta, a bar and café that provides a lavish abode for the noon meeting to the late evening jamboree and everything in between. The furnishings include white Italian leather armchairs and sofas, alongside frosted glass dividers and a sleek interior design to present a cool and elegant setting.

A colour palette comprised of elegant burnt oranges, deep reds and purples flow from the walls to the velvet curtains and silk drapes filling the venue with luxury. The venue is an impressive incorporation of a lounge, a restaurant, a bar and a nightclub. These connect via grand corridors decorated with stunning silk drapes. This creates the atmosphere of an Indonesian palace filled with a diverse collection of magnificent rooms.

Only the select few will find themselves venturing into the club through a separate set of doors on the other side of a majestic double-sided bar and into the highly sought-after VIP area. The privacy is pleasant, but not restricting, as the dance-floor can be found on the other side of a series of appealing drapery. Directly across, on the other side of the dance floor is the DJ domicile raised high above with an alcove below, garnished with vibrant hand-painted design and desirable seating.
