

JEWEL COVENT GARDEN

GENERAL INFORMATION

Jewel Covent Garden, like its sister bar, Jewel Piccadilly, has differently themed bars – Rouge Noir and Bar Blanca. Unlike Jewel Piccadilly Circus, here you are able to see all three bars from the main staircase.

Lisa Vanderpump and the designers have with Soho Bars' recent acquisitions - LVPO & Jewel Piccadilly Circus - endeavored to recreate spaces whose influences derive from countries around the world. It's particularly prevalent at Jewel Covent Garden, where the influences derive from France (Jewel), Morocco (Bar Blanca) and the Orient (Rouge Noir). The venue has been completely redesigned and refurbished over the past five months with some outstanding features including a floor from a 19th century French Railway Station which you step onto as soon as you enter the Jewel reception bar.

One of the many impressive features is the source of light in this venue. Due to the high glass ceilings light cascades into the venue lighting up the renaissance frescos and creating a soft natural radiance, especially on a summer's evening. As the sun sets the beautiful chandeliers, jewels and candles come alive creating a truly magical setting.

Jewel Covent Garden is an amalgamation of different textures and influences. Each room has its own distinct unique feeling but they all compliment each other.
